Local author publishes new book in Lemonade series

Local author, Paul Bodner, announced the release of his next book in the Lemonade Series, Teaching With Love, Laughter, and Lemonade. The book is a collection of inspiring stories written by high school students about a teacher who positively impacted a student's life.

As part of a scholarship contest, over 7,000 stories were submitted and judged by an editorial board based upon story and style. Ninety-seven entries were selected to be published, with a byline credit awarded to the winning authors. North Las Vegas Community College High School-East student, David Wonpu, had his story selected for the book. His story, is a moving, emotional tribute to a special teacher who made a difference that will last forever.

"Everyone has had a teacher who really made a difference in their lives," said Bodner. "This book is unique because we publish the words as they were written, in the voice of the young person. It is a positive, appreciative voice that is honest and emotional, and it carries a message that makes us all appreciate those who are supportive in our lives."
